

HUSKY DELI OWNER RECEIVES KIWANIS EVERYDAY HERO AWARD

The Kiwanis Club of West Seattle presented its Everyday Hero Award at their weekly meeting on Wednesday September 14th, to Mr. Jack Miller for his significant ongoing support of the West Seattle Community.

Miller, owner of Husky Deli and Ice Cream, donates on a regular basis to support Kiwanis service projects, including slicing the ham for the Annual Kiwanis Community Pancake Breakfast, set for Saturday December 3, 2011.

Husky Deli has been family owned and operated since 1932, and is well known for its ice cream and deli sandwiches. Husky Deli is one of West Seattle's oldest iconic establishments and the Miller family members continue to be active in the business and community at large.

The Kiwanis Everyday Hero Award honors folks whose value to the community has gone unnoticed or unappreciated. Kiwanis Club president West Niver declared, "We are thrilled to recognize Jack and his family for their commitment to West Seattle".

The Kiwanis Club of West Seattle, now in its 83rd year, undertakes a full program of service to the communities of West Seattle with special emphasis on the growth, education and needs of children from preschool through college. An affiliate of Kiwanis International which has clubs in 83 nations, the West Seattle club is an organization of thoughtful adults dedicated to community service.

The West Seattle Kiwanis club is one of the first service clubs established in West Seattle, and was started in 1929. Kiwanis is a global organization of volunteers dedicated to changing the world, one child and one community at a time. The Kiwanis Club of West Seattle offers you the opportunity to share your experience, knowledge, and time in service to the community. This service is great fun and builds fellowship with other members. Excellent, diverse programs can be enjoyed at weekly meetings. Membership is open to all men and women who possess a genuine interest in serving the community. The club meets on Wednesdays at Be's Restaurant in the Junction. Please visit the Kiwanis website at www.kiwaniswestseattle.org for meeting times, upcoming events and guest speakers.
